September 24-25, 2025

SCHEDULES (virtual & host sites)

Becoming more deeply committed to our communities
by being more deeply connected in community

SEPT 24 SCHEDULE (VIRTUAL)

9:00-9:30AM - Welcome and Calling to Community

Featuring:

Roni Burkes-Trowsdell, Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction

Michael Garrett, Ohio Department of Youth Services

9:30-10:30AM – What Works at the Intersection of Young Adult Criminal Justice Involvement & Reentry

When we know what the research shows, we can make better decisions about how to support and serve young people who were incarcerated as children and return as adults. This plenary provides the facts about factors for system involvement and what works in successful reintegration for 18-25 year olds.

Presenter:

Dr. Chris Damato, University of Cincinnati Corrections Institute

Yolanda Frierson, Department of Youth Services (Facilitator)

10:30-10:45AM- Break

10:45 – 12:15PM - Putting Research into Practice

Representatives working in and on both the adult and juvenile Systems present on policies, practices, and practical needs, interventions, and necessary supports and services. These practitioners and community researchers highlight similarities and differences in the systems and identify the gaps in services that the community needs to provide.

Presenters:

Brooke Burns, Office of Ohio Public Defenders, Youth Defense Division

Ruth Simera, NEOMED Coordinating Centers of Excellence, Dept of Psychiatry

Brittini Long, Department of Youth Services

Jennifer Nail, OH Dept. of Rehabilitation and Correction (Facilitator)

12:15 - 12:30PM – Lunch Break

12:30 – 1:30PM – Lunch & Learn: Experts of their Experiences

Hearing from the most directly impacted is necessary. This panel of young returning neighbors and/or individuals who experienced juvenile justice system involvement and subsequent adult incarceration share their experiences and guide us into better ways to serve and support other young adults returning.

Presenters:

Stan Ross, Positive Influence Team

Positive Influence Team Participants

Toriano Henry, Pastor

1:30 - 2:30PM – What Works Where We Are? Where are the Gaps?

This session starts with an overview of an innovative approach to create an employment pipeline for young adults returning. Our collaborative panel will address the differences between working with young persons and older adults in “doing life” along with developing the mindset necessary for developing innovative partnerships between a state agency, a county initiative, and a local community service provider.

Presenters:

Larry Simpson, Ohio Department of Youth Services

Jody Slagle, Ohio Department of Youth Services

Allison Steele, The Trades Institute

2:30 – 2:45PM – Break

2:45 – 4:00PM – Connecting & Co-laboring in Community Context Discussions

In this final session for the day, participants will first explore an effective model for multi-system coordination that the Ohio Family and Children's First Council has used for the last 15 years. Then, facilitators will guide small group discussions based on their community context - metro, mid-size and rural. Groups will identify the cross over of services between adults and youth, necessary differences in systems and services, and gaps that community services can fill through coordination of services for young adults ages 18-25. Each context will wrap up with facilitated reporting from small groups to the larger context group on three things they identified in crossover services, gaps, and coordinated services opportunities.. The session will end with a final open discussion on: "What is the first step you are going to take toward the long-term goal of serving and supporting young adults returning home?"

Presenters:

Colleen Tucker, Ohio Children and Family First Council

Aimee Matusik, Ohio Children and Family First Council

Facilitators:

Rachel Sobitz, Relink.org

Bill Hartford, The Four Seven Prison Ministry

Tom Luettke, Northeast Ohio Reentry Coalition, OALRC

Diane Bricker, Safe Harbor Peer Support Services, OALRC
